

Cliente

A diagram featuring a light green square on the left with the word 'Cliente' in black text. To the right of the square, two thin black lines cross each other. One line slopes upwards from left to right, and the other slopes downwards from left to right. The lines appear to originate from the right edge of the frame and converge towards the green box.

Cliente

A diagram featuring a light green square on the left with the word 'Cliente' in black text. To the right of the square, two thin black lines cross each other. One line starts from the right edge of the frame and slopes downwards towards the intersection point. The other line starts from the right edge of the frame and slopes upwards towards the intersection point. The intersection point is located to the right of the green square.